

Join North America's top environmental officials in Oklahoma City this June

Register today for the 2018 Regular Session of the CEC Council, focused on Innovation and Partnerships for Green Growth: www.cec.org/Council2018

Friday, 4 May 2018—The Commission for Environmental Cooperation (CEC) invites the public to join the annual gathering of its Council, composed of the environment ministers of Canada, Mexico, and the United States. The Council Chair, US Environmental Protection Agency Administrator Scott Pruitt, will host his colleagues, Canadian Environment and Climate Change Minister Catherine McKenna and Mexico's Secretary of Environment and Natural Resources Rafael Pacchiano Alamán in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, United States.

The public is invited to participate in the following events:

- June 26 - A one-day public forum of the CEC Joint Public Advisory Committee (JPAC) focused on emerging topics related to environment and economic growth, including increasing private sector engagement in CEC trilateral initiatives and highlighting examples of successful indigenous community and private sector collaborations
- June 26 - An opening event at the Convention Center and welcoming reception with the Ministers
- June 27 - A Ministerial dialogue on Innovation and Partnerships for Green Growth with state, academic, and private sector representatives, and presentations by the North American winners of this year's CEC Youth Innovation Challenge
- June 27 - An exhibition showcasing CEC's work to protect and enhance North America's environment
